St Edmundsbury Cathedral Music Department

The Cathedral Church of St James and St Edmund, Bury St Edmunds, was created in 1914 when the existing St James's Church was selected as the seat of the new Bishop of St Edmundsbury and Ipswich. The building was enlarged by Stephen Dykes Bower in the 1960s and its central tower was opened by TRH The Prince of Wales and The Duchess of Cornwall in 2005. New cloisters, chapels and other building works were consecrated in 2009 and the vaulted ceiling and new organ were dedicated in March 2011. St Edmundsbury Cathedral maintains a daily round of worship with the Anglican choral tradition of music at its heart. The Book of Common Prayer and Common Worship are used on a daily basis for services and there is a vast range of special services of celebration, thanksgiving and commemoration when local and national bodies and individuals attend. In addition, there is a significant number of secular events such as concerts and art exhibitions on an almost weekly basis. The Cathedral is also a principal destination in East Anglia for tourists and other visitors and also provides a significant educational programme for schools visits.

The Cathedral Choir is the Cathedral's principal choir, and currently numbers eleven choristers, five probationers and ten gentlemen singers (eight Lay Clerks and two Choral Scholars). The Cathedral Choir sings five regular services a week but also undertakes special services, termly diocesan visits, radio and television broadcasts, and recordings. There is an international tour every two years, most recently to Lisbon, Fatima and Coimbra in Portugal. In addition, the Cathedral's musical life is supported by the St Edmundsbury Singers (the ladies' choir), the St Cecilia Chorale (the youth choir), the Colts Choir (junior boys) and the St Cecilia Juniors (junior girls).

Bury St Edmunds County Upper School Music Department

Music is very strong at this well-renowned 13-18 upper school which has an enviable reputation for the Arts. It was selected by the BBC for a national feature last autumn because of its support for, and programme of, Arts education at a time of decline across the country.

Music is a popular and highly successful subject, achieving consistently excellent results. Our musicians regularly go to further study at specialist conservatories or universities, including Oxbridge colleges.

We have strong links with the County Music Service whose Western Area Hub is based within our school and we train music teachers from a variety of ITT providers. Our school is part of an all-through trust with two middle schools and a primary. We provide support and additional musical experiences to these pupils and there is an annual trust performance at The Apex.

The music department runs a rich extra-curricular programme of ensembles and activities. Our Chamber Choir is highly regarded and, like many of our ensembles, performs widely by request. It was selected to perform a specially-composed piece at the Britten Centenary Concert in Snape Maltings which was broadcast around the world. Recent music tours have included Venice and Suffolk Virginia, USA.

Duties at the Cathedral

The Cathedral's Music Department aims to enable the Choral Scholar to gain experience of singing at all the choral services which require the Cathedral Choir to participate.

Duties

The weekly routine for the Choral Scholars during choir term is as follows:

Sundays

9.15 am	Rehearsal
10.00 am	Eucharist (CW)
11.30 am	Mattins (BCP) or rehearsal
2.45 pm	Rehearsal
3.30 pm	Evensong (BCP)

Wednesdays

4.45 pm	Rehearsal
5.30 pm	Evensong (BCP) (Men's Voices)

Fridays

4.45 pm	Rehearsal
5.30 pm	Evensong (BCP)
6.15 – 7.30 pm	Full choir rehearsal followed by Lay Clerks' rehearsal

Choir term currently numbers approximately 39 weeks per year. The Choir is not required during most school holidays, and the (usually) first Sunday of each half term holiday is free.

There are occasional services on Saturday afternoons (Ordinations, Bishop's Chorister Awards service, Diocesan Choirs' Festival), for which plenty of notice will be given. Occasional events such as concerts, tours, recordings and broadcasts are similarly advertised well in advance, and full choir attendance is expected at these. Choral Scholars may also be asked to sing for weddings, broadcasts and occasional services for which extra fees are usually payable.
