

Music resources for Thy Kingdom Come course

The music resources suggested here represent a wide range of styles of music for worship - hymns, worship songs, the music of the Iona and Taizé communities, and more. Not all will be suitable for every group. Try to choose something that is suitable for whatever musicians you have available. If you don't have any musicians who can lead these songs, you can still use them with your group by listening together, for those pieces where recordings are available online.

Most of the items are available in Ancient & Modern: Hymns and Songs for Refreshing Worship - a resource that is becoming popular in many churches today.

If you are not using a printed hymn or song book, you will need a copyright licence from Christian Copyright Licensing (CCLI) uk.ccli.com. For Taizé, a Calamus licence is needed, from decanimusic.co.uk

These pieces are of course just suggestions. Feel free to explore other music that fits with the theme of the course.
